

Susan McCullough

American Storyteller & School Counselor

Susan began telling stories in 2001. With Master's degrees in both Counseling and Education, she became skilled in using storytelling as a powerful tool in a number of settings. Susan used storytelling, not only for entertainment, but also in group and individual counseling, and for character education and life skills lessons in the classroom.

In the USA, Susan performed for adults in local festivals, for various civic groups and other adult organizations and for children at public libraries and in summer programs, both as an individual teller and as a member of her local guild.

She completed a third Master's degree in storytelling in 2016 and lives with her German husband in Freising.

Energetic, engaging, and instructive on the use of storytelling in the educational context. Mary Owens, Psychotherapist (Ireland)

Definitely one of the most inspiring sessions of this international seminar on Fairytale and Storytelling Therapy. Monica Franco, Founder, Movimento Bloom, (Portugal)

A wonderfully passionate storyteller, full of energy and humour. Susan gave me the inspiration to read and tell stories and to understand the power they can have, by making a difference and changing one's world...including my own.

Sheena Kooner, graduate student (UK)

Stories are our native language. Geschichten sind unsere Muttersprache

Are you looking for something special to entertain an international audience?

Are you looking for something different for your group that will let them hear the natural rhythm and flow of English and grab their attention at the same time?

Storytelling is exactly what you want!

Susan has programs suitable for adults and teenagers as well as for kindergarten and everything in between. She also offers a variety of workshops on the various uses and purposes of storytelling in a variety of settings.

Storytelling Programs & Workshops

- Folktales for Children, Teens, Adults
- Folktales to Promote English Language Learning
- Folktales for Character Education & Life Skills
- Scary stories, from humorous to startling to downright creepy. For ages 10 and up
- Mars & Venus – folktales of relationships and all the craziness between men and women. For adults
- Disturbingly Ever After – folktales that really shouldn't have happy endings but do. For teens and adults
- Yuk! – bodily functions in folktales. For ages 8 and up
- Programs can be specially designed for your event, interests, needs or curriculum, Just ask!
- Storytelling in the Classroom and Across the Curriculum: Primary School/Middle Grades/ High School Grades
- Storytelling Basics for Teachers
- Folktales, Myths & Legends: What's the Difference?
- Storytelling for Parents
- Literacy through Storytelling
- Teaching Character Education & Life Skills Through Storytelling
- The Neuroscience of Storytelling
- Teaching Empathy Through Storytelling

storyrat@gmail.com

<http://storyrat.weebly.com>

+49 152 22 78 0642

Freising, Germany